

Rebecca Wisbar

Mediator

Rebecca Wisbar has been a panel member with Perry Dampf Dispute Solutions since 2018. She was also a founding partner at the former Baton Rouge firm of Akers & Wisbar. With 39 years of experience, Ms. Wisbar has successfully participated, both as an advocate and as mediator, in almost six hundred mediations involving general torts, personal injury, successions, corporate issues, banking law, employment disputes, health plans and workers compensation. She completed mediation training in Chicago at Northwestern University.

225-389-9899

rebecca.wisbar@gmail.com

<https://www.perrydampf.com/neutrals/rebecca-wisbar>

Concentrations

Successions

Personal Injury

Corporate

Banking

Health Plans

Workers Compensation

Employment

Governmental Retirement Systems

Education

BA, The University of Virginia (1982)

JD, Louisiana State University Paul M. Hebert Law Center (1986)

Northwestern University (Chicago)
School of Professional Studies (2013)

Recognitions

AV-rated Martindale-Hubbell

LSU Law Center - Adjunct Professor

Adjuncts Consulting Committee
Louisiana State University Paul M.
Hebert Law Center 2017-2018

Member, Louisiana State Bar
Continuing Legal Education Committee

Life Member of the National Registry of Who's Who Published in 2001

Baton Rouge Lawyer contributor

The National Moot Court Competition,
Judge of Oral Arguments

Biography

Ms. Wisbar is an accomplished mediator and attorney with an AV-rating from Martindale-Hubbell, a testament to her exceptional skills and professionalism. She brings her expertise to the LSU Law Center as an adjunct professor, where she teaches legal negotiations to aspiring lawyers.

In addition to her teaching role, Ms. Wisbar is a prominent contributor to the legal community. She serves as a contributing writer for The Baton Rouge Lawyer, sharing her insights and knowledge with fellow legal practitioners. Furthermore, she hosts The Mediation Minute podcast, providing valuable information and guidance on mediation-related topics.

Ms. Wisbar's contributions extend beyond the realm of academia and writing. She is a respected member of the Louisiana State Bar Continuing Legal Education Committee and has been recognized as a Life Member of the National Registry of Who's Who since 2001. Her involvement in various legal organizations, including the Baton Rouge Bar Association and the Louisiana State Bar Association, reflects her commitment to professional growth and engagement within the legal community.

Throughout her career, Ms. Wisbar has been sought after as a speaker and lecturer on a wide range of legal topics. She has presented at the Louisiana State University Law Center, National Business Institute, and Small Business Seminars conducted by the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE). Her expertise encompasses areas such as professionalism, ethics, litigation, and wills and successions.

With a background that includes serving as a judicial clerk to the Honorable Frank Foil and chairing the Ethics Committee at the Paul M. Hebert Law Center, Louisiana State University, Ms. Wisbar brings a wealth of experience and insights to her work.

Ms. Wisbar's contributions to the legal field have been widely recognized, including her appointments as a judge for prestigious competitions such as the National Moot Court Competition and the Robert Lee Tullis Moot Court Competition.